As you can see in the image, it's possible to send Google Translated the query text (to be translated) in the URL.

Is there any way to do the same in Bing Translator?

It'd be helpful in making a search from the Mac app; Alfred.

Try this:

https://www.bing.com/translator?from=<source\_language>&to=<target\_language>&text=<YourText>

Replace <source_language> with your language code (en for english) and <target_language> with the language to translate into and <YourText> with the text to be translated. You can click on the following link to see if it works.

<https://www.bing.com/translator?from=en&to=fr&text=This%20is%20a%20test.>
